Christopher Lee of Empirical Consulting Solutions Named to Philadelphia Titan100 List

Narberth, PA – July 12, 2022 – Christopher Lee, Co-Founder and Managing Partner of Empirical Consulting Solutions (Empirical), has been officially named to the Philadelphia Titan100 list.

The Philadelphia Titan100 recognizes a premier group of 100 CEOs and C-level executives and accomplished business leaders, representing both the private and public sectors, from the greater Philadelphia area. Nominated individuals must demonstrate exceptional leadership, vision, passion, and influence in their field.

“To be named to the Titan100 List is an absolute thrill and honor,” shared Lee. “But I must give a great deal of credit to the Empirical team as well. It is due in large part to the dedication and talent of the Empirical team, who work with clients so passionately and tirelessly, that this award became a reality for me. And I want to also thank our clients, who trust us to continue delivering great results, and our referral partners and extended network who have helped us to increase our value and help propel us to where we are today, nine years after our founding.”

Lee continued, “An additional thank you goes to Dave MacWilliams, who is VP of Employee Benefits at Johnson, Kendal & Johnson and sponsored me when the nominations were initially made. I truly appreciate Dave’s support during this process.”

The final list of the Philadelphia Titan100 was announced this week.
